

Science and Psychology

We promise you

Fun

Entertainment

Education

Psychology and Science as you've never seen it before ...

Live psychological research

Talks on pseudoscience, science and BAD science.

Dancing

A psychologist does research on dancing! Peter Lovatt explains how your hormones and genes influence your dancing.

Magic

It's all about psychology. Oliver Meech does some tricks and shows you the science.

Hypnosis

You simply won't believe what you see. Andrew Newton is a hypnotist of international renown.

My students absolutely loved the conference and did not stop talking about it the whole train journey home. They were buzzing.

Lectures challenged students to think about the criteria for scientific knowledge. Dr Dance had everyone up on their feet, practising the moves which have been researched in laboratory and night club conditions. The day culminated in a dramatic, humorous and entertaining demonstration of hypnosis, prompting student questions about the nature of the hypnotic state and how it can be investigated.

